

Commercial Access Control Solutions for Your Business

From preventing theft and trespassing to protecting sensitive information, the right access control system can do so much more than simply restrict or permit entry. It can keep your business's most valuable assets protected while helping your team stay productive. Leverage this powerful technology to grow and scale your business with security and confidence.

Access Control Solutions That Help Keep Your Business Secure

Decide Who Can Enter and When

Access control allows you to decide who can move through your buildings and grounds, where, and at what times. Setting access permissions and restrictions ensures that your business's system works the way you need it to each day to protect you, your team, and your customers.

Recognize and Respond to Threats

The flexibility to utilize your access control system on-premises as well as remotely allows you to identify, assess, and respond to threats in real time so that you remain in command of your business's safety and security 24/7/365.

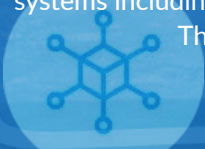

Assure Legal Compliance

Legal compliance is essential to keeping your business operations running without interruption. An access control solution can help you prevent unlawful entry to your buildings and grounds and keep sensitive information secure.

Integrate with Existing Solutions

Your access control system offers you a flexible, scalable solution that integrates with your other systems including video surveillance, emergency response, paging systems, and environmental sensors. The result is a truly comprehensive safety and physical security ecosystem.

Enjoy Peace of Mind

The right-fit commercial access control system will free you from worry over lost keys, increase your team's productivity by giving authorized personnel access to your buildings when they need it, and offer you true peace of mind when it comes to your business security.

Eastern DataComm's Commercial Access Control Systems Offer

Swipe Card and Card Reader Technologies

These solutions prevent entrance without a swipe card. Key fobs and the associated readers control access to designated areas based on credentials. This feature empowers you to directly improve your business's security and safety profile.

Request-to-Exit Systems

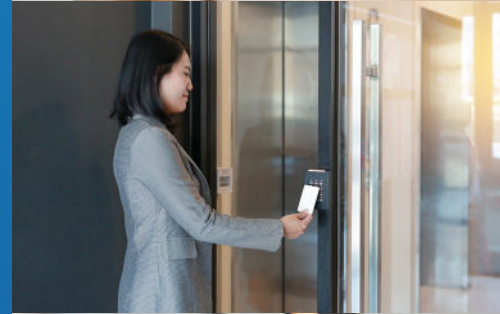

Whether you select motion detection (releasing the door when motion is detected) or exit button technology (releasing a door at the push of a button), request-to-exit systems offer a powerful and impactful approach to access control.

Door Strikes and Crash Bars

Customize door strikes to permit exit or entry only if a keycard is scanned. Crashbars can be activated to open with your access control systems.

On-site, In-Person Training and Project Management and Implementation Support

From generating and programming swipe cards to configuring your system and fully understanding key types of notifications, our Eastern DataComm team provides your business with project management and training to assist in implementing your access control solution.
